Home Credit LAP Voice Agent — Test Results

Test 01: Eligible Customer

- Test objective: Verify that an eligible customer completes the preliminary Loan Against Property (LAP) qualification process.
- Property type: Residential
- Ownership: Joint
- Original property documents: Available
- Requested loan amount: ₹40 lakh
- Occupation: Salaried
- Income received through: Bank
- Property market value: ₹80 lakh
- Requested tenure: 10 years
- Expected result: Preliminary eligibility; a senior expert will contact the customer with exact rates.
- Actual Result: The user completed a preliminary Loan Against Property eligibility screening, providing details of a jointly owned residential property, available documents, a ₹40 lakh loan request, salaried bank-account income, approximately ₹80 lakh property value, and a 10-year term. The agent stated that the user meets preliminary criteria and that a senior loan expert will follow up.

Test_02_Agricultural_Property_Result

Test Case ID: Test 02

Test Case Name: Agricultural Property — Ineligible Customer

Objective: To verify that the voice agent correctly identifies agricultural property as ineligible for the Home Credit Loan Against Property (LAP) offer.

Test Input: "I want a loan against my agricultural land."

Test Data:

- Property type: Agricultural
- Ownership: Not required
- Original property documents: Not required

- Requested loan amount: Not required
- Occupation: Not required
- Income type: Not required
- Property market value: Not required
- Loan tenure: Not required

Expected Result: The agent should politely inform the customer that agricultural property is not eligible for this LAP offer and end the qualification process without asking the remaining eligibility questions.

Actual Result: The agent discussed a Loan Against Property offer and asked what property type the customer would use. The customer said agricultural, which is not eligible for the offer, and the call ended politely.

Test_03_Cash_Income_Result

Test Case ID: Test 03

Test Case Name: Cash Income — Ineligible Customer

Objective: To verify that the voice agent correctly identifies that the customer's income is received only in cash and politely disqualifies them.

Test Input: “I am self-employed, and I receive all my income in cash. I don't deposit my income into a bank.”

Test Data:

- Property type: Residential
- Ownership: Sole
- Original property documents: Available
- Requested loan amount: ₹30 lakh
- Occupation: Self-employed
- Income type: Cash only
- Property market value: ₹60 lakh
- Loan tenure: 10 years

Expected Result: The agent should explain politely that income must be received through a bank for this offer. It should end the qualification process without continuing to ask unnecessary eligibility questions.

Actual Result: The agent screened the customer for a Loan Against Property offer. The customer confirmed a solely owned residential property with documents available and sought ₹30 lakh, but was deemed ineligible because their self-employed income is received only in cash.

Test_04_Loan_Transfer_Result

Test Case ID: Test 04

Test Case Name: Existing Loan — Loan Transfer Specialist Referral

Objective: To verify that the voice agent correctly identifies a customer who already has a loan against their property and wants to transfer it to reduce their EMI.

Test Input: "I already have a loan against my property with another bank. I want to transfer it to reduce my monthly EMI."

Test Data:

- Existing loan on property: Yes
- Customer request: Transfer existing loan
- Reason for transfer: Reduce monthly EMI
- Property type: Not required for this referral
- Ownership: Not required for this referral
- Original property documents: Not required for this referral
- Requested loan amount: Not required
- Occupation: Not required
- Income type: Not required
- Property market value: Not required
- Loan tenure: Not required

Expected Result: The agent should recognize the customer's loan-transfer request, route the customer to a loan-transfer specialist, politely explain the referral, and end the conversation. It should not continue the seven questions for a fresh LAP application.

Actual Result: The agent discussed a Loan Against Property offer and confirmed the user has a residential property. The user indicated the inquiry concerns an existing loan or loan transfer, so the agent said an appropriate specialist would contact them shortly.

Test_05_Loan_Amount_Accepted_Result

Test Case ID: Test 05

Test Case Name: Loan Amount Above ₹75 Lakh — Customer Accepts Maximum Limit

Objective: To verify that the voice agent handles a loan request above ₹75 lakh correctly and continues the qualification process when the customer agrees to the maximum available amount.

Test Input: "I need a loan of ₹90 lakh against my property."

Agent Follow-up: "The maximum loan amount available under this offer is ₹75 lakh. Would you be comfortable proceeding with that amount?"

Customer Response: "Yes, ₹75 lakh is fine."

Test Data:

- Property type: Residential
- Ownership: Sole
- Original property documents: Available
- Initially requested loan amount: ₹90 lakh
- Maximum loan amount offered: ₹75 lakh
- Customer accepts maximum amount: Yes
- Occupation: Salaried
- Income received through: Bank
- Property market value: ₹1 crore
- Requested tenure: 10 years

Expected Result: The agent should explain the ₹75 lakh maximum, confirm that the customer accepts it, and continue the remaining eligibility questions. It should not disqualify the customer simply for initially requesting ₹90 lakh.

Actual Result: The agent discussed a Loan Against Property offer and confirmed the user has a residential property. The user indicated the inquiry concerns an existing loan or loan transfer, so the agent said an appropriate specialist would contact them shortly.

Test_06_Loan_Amount_Rejected_Result

Test Case ID: Test 06

Test Case Name: Loan Amount Above ₹75 Lakh — Customer Rejects Maximum Limit

Objective: To verify that the voice agent correctly handles a customer who requests more than ₹75 lakh and refuses to proceed with the maximum available loan amount.

Test Input: “I need a loan of ₹90 lakh against my property.”

Agent Follow-up: “The maximum loan amount available under this offer is ₹75 lakh. Would you be comfortable proceeding with that amount?”

Customer Response: “No, I need the full ₹90 lakh. I don't want to proceed with ₹75 lakh.”

Test Data:

- Property type: Residential
- Ownership: Sole
- Original property documents: Available
- Requested loan amount: ₹90 lakh
- Maximum loan amount offered: ₹75 lakh
- Customer accepts maximum amount: No
- Occupation: Not required after rejection
- Income type: Not required
- Property market value: Not required
- Loan tenure: Not required

Expected Result: The agent should politely explain that it cannot proceed with a fresh LAP qualification above the ₹75 lakh maximum if the customer does not accept the limit. It should end the conversation courteously without continuing the remaining eligibility questions.

Actual Result: The agent discussed a Loan Against Property offer capped at ₹75 lakh. The user requested ₹90 lakh and declined the lower amount, so the agent ended the call.

Test_07_Out_of_Order_Answers_Result

Test Case ID: Test 07

Test Case Name: Out-of-Order Answers — Agent Remembers Customer Responses

Objective: To verify that the voice agent remembers the customer's answers when they provide eligibility information in a different order and does not ask the same questions again.

Test Input: The customer provides answers out of order, for example:

- “I need ₹40 lakh.”
- “I am salaried, and my salary comes into my bank account.”
- “My property is residential.”
- “The property is worth ₹80 lakh.”
- “I want a tenure of 10 years.”
- “The original property documents are available.”
- “The property is jointly owned.”

Test Data:

- Property type: Residential
- Ownership: Joint
- Original property documents: Available
- Requested loan amount: ₹40 lakh
- Occupation: Salaried
- Income received through: Bank
- Property market value: ₹80 lakh
- Requested tenure: 10 years
- Answers provided in order: No, answers are provided out of order

Expected Result: The agent should remember each answer, identify which required details are still missing, and ask only for the missing information. Once all seven details are collected and the eligibility criteria are met, it should explain that a senior expert will call with the exact rates. It must not promise final loan approval.

Actual Result: The caller expressed interest in a ₹40 lakh loan against a jointly owned residential property worth about ₹80 lakh, with a 10-year tenure; they stated they are salaried and have original documents available. The agent said the caller met preliminary criteria and that a senior loan expert would follow up.

Test_08_Busy_Customer_Callback_Result

Test Case ID: Test 08

Test Case Name: Busy Customer — Callback Preference Captured

Objective: To verify that the voice agent handles a busy customer politely and captures their preferred callback time instead of continuing the eligibility questions.

Test Input: “I'm busy right now. Can you call me later?”

Agent Follow-up: “Of course. What would be a convenient time for us to call you back?”

Customer Response: “Please call me tomorrow at 11 AM.”

Test Data:

- Customer availability: Busy
- Callback requested: Yes
- Preferred callback day: Tomorrow
- Preferred callback time: 11:00 AM
- Eligibility questions completed: No
- Customer identity: Verify according to the agent's configured process

Expected Result: The agent should acknowledge that the customer is busy, politely ask for a convenient callback time, capture the customer's preference, and end the conversation courteously. It should not force the customer to complete the eligibility questions during the current call.

Actual Result: The agent introduced a Loan Against Property offer. The user was busy and requested a callback tomorrow at 11 AM, which the agent confirmed as Saturday, October 10 at 11 AM.

Test 09: Missing Eligibility Information — Agent Asks for the Missing Detail

Test_09_Missing_Eligibility_Information_Result

Test Case ID: Test 09

Test Case Name: Missing Eligibility Information — Agent Asks for the Missing Detail

Objective: To verify that the voice agent identifies missing eligibility information and asks the customer only for the required unanswered detail.

Test Input: “My property is residential, it is jointly owned, the original property documents are available, and I need a loan of ₹40 lakh. I am salaried, and my salary is credited to my bank account. I want a tenure of 10 years.”

Missing Information: Property market value.

Customer Response: “I haven't told you the market value of my property yet.”

Test Data:

- Property type: Residential
- Ownership: Joint
- Original property documents: Available
- Requested loan amount: ₹40 lakh
- Occupation: Salaried
- Income received through: Bank
- Property market value: Not provided
- Requested tenure: 10 years

Expected Result: The agent should recognize that the property market value has not been provided and ask the customer for it. It should remember the other answers and avoid asking those questions again. After collecting all seven required details and confirming that the eligibility criteria are met, it should explain that a senior expert will call with the exact rates. It must not promise final loan approval.

Actual Result: The caller expressed interest in a ₹40 lakh loan against a jointly owned residential property with original documents, a salaried bank-credited income, and a 10-year tenure. The agent requested the property’s estimated market value, but the user declined to provide it, so the preliminary check could not proceed.

Test 10: Customer Requests 20-Year Tenure and Rejects the 3–15-Year Range

Test_10_Tenure_Limit_Rejected_Result

Test Case ID: Test 10

Test Case Name: Customer Requests 20-Year Tenure and Rejects the 3–15-Year Range

Objective: To verify that the voice agent handles a requested loan tenure outside the permitted range and politely ends the qualification process when the customer refuses the acceptable tenure range.

Test Input:

Customer: “I want a loan tenure of 20 years.”

Agent: Explains that the acceptable tenure is between 3 and 15 years and asks whether the customer is willing to proceed within that range.

Customer: “No, I need 20 years. I don't want to proceed with a shorter tenure.”

Test Data:

- Property type: Residential
- Ownership: Sole
- Original property documents: Available
- Requested loan amount: ₹40 lakh
- Occupation: Salaried
- Income received through: Bank
- Property market value: ₹80 lakh
- Requested tenure: 20 years
- Customer accepts the 3–15-year range: No

Expected Result: The agent should explain that the acceptable loan tenure is 3–15 years. If the customer refuses this range, the agent should politely explain that it cannot proceed with the requested tenure and end the call respectfully. It should not continue asking unnecessary eligibility questions or promise loan approval.

Actual Result: The agent verified the customer and presented a Loan Against Property offer up to ₹75 lakh with a 3–15 year repayment tenure. The user required a 20-year tenure and declined to proceed with a shorter term, so the agent ended the call.
